Light and Sound Detective Squad

Become a light and sound detective. Have a look at these pictures and see if you can point to the ones that make light or sound. Then go on a mission around your home to find other objects that make light or sound. Bonus points if you find objects that make both light and sound!

Parents support by:

Read the instructions above to your child. Support them to identify the correct pictures. Allow them time to try, let them show you what they already know. Become a play partner by pretending to be a light and sound detective yourself. Pretend you can't find anything and ask your child for help. Ask questions about the objects and provide information to help your child develop a further understanding.
